One important rule to remember when playing Blackjack is that natural blackjacks (an Ace and any 10-value card) always pay 3:2.

This means that if you put down a bet of $10 and get a natural blackjack, you will be paid out $15 in total instead of just your bet back.

6 cents over the long run.

That means for every $10 you bet, you can expect to lose an average of 50 cents or more over the long run.

University of South Carolina Department of Sport and Entertainment Management Professor John Grady calls the new law "a seismic shift for gaming laws in the Carolinas.

"With estimates that 60% of 18-22 year-olds have placed sports bets and a growing belief that prohibitions on gambling do not effectively stop the activity nor prevent gambling addiction, North Carolina follows the path of many other states," says Professor Mark Nagel.

"This continues a trend in the aftermath of the 2018 Supreme Court decision in Murphy v NCAA which granted the right to states to evaluate sport gambling opportunities.

It will take effect in 2024.
