Regulated gambling products: Lotteries, casinos, sports betting
Gambling in Zimbabwe is legal in all its forms.
For those who enjoy placing a bet Zimbabwe offers many choices.
Brick and mortar bookmaker shops are packed with bettors, where -notably- they must pay 10% tax on their winnings.

The online Zimbabwe sports betting sector is different, being neither legal nor illegal; authorities though, mainly treat it as being legal, and that's what matters the most.

Effectively, there is no blocking of online providers, and no surveillance whatsoever.

Lastly, always keep in mind that being able to raise a claim is important when betting online; so is solving it in a legitimate manner.

As a result, many players are placing their bets at online bookies with no problems whatsoever.

I am personally selling VERY LITTLE Merch. I mostly use it for my own branded items. I'm not making many "niche shirts" but use the program for my own "swag" and marketing. Much of this information was gathered interviewing experts in the field and people who are doing extremely well with the program.
