How to Make Money on Redbubble | 12 Ways to Maximize Your Earnings

2. Add Tags to Your Redbubble Shop

Redbubble tags help potential customers find your work and products on Redbubble, making it easier to get more sales. When you create a new shop, be sure to add plenty of relevant tags so that people can easily discover what you're selling.

5. Be on Trend with Google Keyword Planner

If you want to sell a lot of products on Redbubble, your work must be relevant to your audience. Fortunately, Google Keyword Planner makes this easy by showing you how often people are searching for specific terms in the search engine. This tool can help you see what types of designs and topics are popular with customers so that you can design work that is on-trend. You can then use these keywords when you create your tags, titles and artist statements on your Redbubble page to help boost traffic to your store.

Redbubble is known for offering sales promotions. For instance, they might offer a digital painting at 50% off. During that time, you can mark up yours 50%, so you don't lose any revenue. Alternatively, you can leave the price as is and look at it as an opportunity to promote your store and increase your customer base.

11. Give Yourself Enough Time to Grow

Our NBA Parlay Optimization tool exists for one reason: to help you construct the perfect parlay ticket every single day by leveraging the combined power of our accurate bet recommendation & win probability algorithms. Combine bet types, control the exact number of bets you want on your ticket, exclude those teams you want to avoid and more so you can maximize your parlay odds with the simple click of the Optimize button.

Begin by selecting the games you'd like to consider in your parlay ticket.

At the top of the page, you'll find the option to include bets from Current

Games (all available bets for today and tomorrow) or only those games from a specific date with the Games By Date Option.

If you select Current Games, you'll find bets from those games being played today and tomorrow.

Each matchup listing includes the teams playing as well as current odds & Run Total lines.

If you select Games by Date, you see the option to toggle between dates and see all available and upcoming games.

Those games without posted odds and lines are noted with TBA.

Money line: Georgia (-4000), South Carolina (+1450) Total: 52.
