If you want to number crunch and make informed wagers, tune in. (And follow GTCashConsider). Host "Cousin Sal" Iacono brings a weekly podcast that sounds more like sportsbook banter between friends than one of the world's biggest gambling podcasts. Specifically, what 2-way market would you offer if you could book this. His questions are insightful and interesting and Jay and John are fountains of information, enlightening the audience on which games hurt or helped the sportsbook. Adam and his co-host Evan Silva spend time talking about each team, so you get more detailed content than other podcasts. No flashy production or intro music. Clearly looking to and overtly stating a desire to contribute to the long-term success of the legalized sports betting industry, Captain Jack provides an array of evergreen betting content as well as weekly videos with fellow industry peers. Playing blackjack is quite simple. Select an amount of money to bet for your hand by clicking the chips in the lower left. Click Deal to have the dealer deal the cards. The point is to get closest to 21 without going over, and beat the dealer by getting a higher number or having the dealer bust (go over 21). When your cards are dealt, you'll get a number of possible options. If the dealer has an ace, you may buy insurance if you wish. You may hit (get another card), stand (keep the cards you have), double (receive Tj T* BT /P
